

Authorization definition Mohamed A

-a security mechanism to determine access levels or user/client privileges related to system resources including files, services, computer programs, data and application features.